Headquartered in Charlotte, NC, MA'AT Enterprises, Inc specialises in a diverse range of management and technical services in healthcare, IT, and STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics) education. As a certified Native American Cherokee Indian business, much of its services are provided to American Indian and Alaska Native tribes, whilst MA'AT Enterprises also serves federal agencies, state governments, and private businesses. Established in 2018, the company serves its customers through cutting-edge technology, innovative services, and best-in-class solutions. These are spread across traditional contract services alongside project, programme, and supply chain management.

MA'AT Enterprises has maintained a talented team of specialists in numerous technical areas, who have made a significant contribution to the company's on-going success. Having such a diverse array of expertise in its team ensures it can make certain members available for the niche services and projects required by its customers on a short and long-term basis. MA'AT Enterprises continues to build internally, enabling it to aid Native American tribes, businesses, and agencies across the entirety of the United States. The company's STEM services include the provision of educational tools and programmes such as STEMM Fest, where Music is added to the core STEM subjects. It targets indigenous students between eight to 18 years of age to help them better understand their future opportunities and address the rate of high unemployment. By introducing technical STEM professions, MA'AT Enterprises wants to broaden their awareness, and ultimately increase representation in those industries.
